

HIS ROYAL MAJESTY (HRM) EZE CHIJIJOKE EGWUAGU COLLINS

Traditional Ruler of Umunwama Autonomous Community & Paramount Ruler of Izombe Land

Personal Profile

Vision

Passionate about unlocking the vast potential within Nigeria's maritime sector, HRM Eze Chijioke Egwuagu Collins has outlined a Five Point Agenda designed to support Nigeria's economic recovery, create employment opportunities, and foster training for millions of youths. His vision and leadership continue to inspire progress in Nigeria and the global maritime industry.

ABOUT ME

Traditional Background

His Royal Majesty (HRM) Eze Chijioke Egwuagu Collins stands as a beacon of leadership and culture, having ascended to the throne as the NWAMA II of Umunwama Autonomous Community. His lineage, rich in tradition and history, stretches back over 400 years, marking his deep connection to the customs and values of his people in Izombe, Oguta LGA, Imo State. The third child of Late Chief John Nwagboso Egwuagu and Late Chief (Mrs.) Eunice Okwuchi Egwuagu (nee Oforma, Ezi-Ada 1 of Obudi-Agwa), HRM was born into a noble family known for their influence and leadership prowess within the community.

HRM's ascension to the throne came in 2013 when he became the traditional ruler of Umunwama Autonomous Community. His coronation was not only a fulfillment of his ancestral destiny but a testament to his commitment to the well-being and progress of his people. His role expanded in 2014 when he was appointed Paramount Ruler of Izombe Land, further consolidating his influence and responsibilities within Oguta LGA. As a revered monarch, HRM Eze Chijioke Egwuagu Collins upholds the honor and traditions of his ancestors, while simultaneously embracing modern advancements that contribute to the development and progress of his kingdom.

Through his leadership, HRM has established himself as a guardian of culture, a patron of development, and a strong advocate for the preservation of traditional values. His influence extends beyond the borders of his community, reaching into the broader spectrum of national leadership and economic progress. His reign embodies the harmonious balance between the old and the new, driving forward the aspirations of Izombe Land while remaining deeply rooted in the customs and traditions that have shaped his people for centuries.

ABOUT ME

Personal Life

Beyond his professional and royal responsibilities, HRM Eze Chijioko Egwuagu Collins is a devoted family man. He is happily married to Queen Angela, a gracious and supportive partner who shares his commitment to the people of Umunwama and Izombe. Together, they have raised a family rooted in the same values of leadership, integrity, and service that define HRM's life and reign.

Family life for HRM is not just about maintaining the royal lineage; it is about nurturing the next generation of leaders. His children have been raised with a deep sense of responsibility to their community and country. HRM is known for instilling the values of education, hard work, and humility in his family, ensuring that his legacy will continue through his descendants.

In his personal life, HRM enjoys moments of reflection and meditation, drawing from the spiritual teachings he has absorbed over the years as a Christian. These experiences have helped him cultivate a calm, measured demeanor that enables him to lead with wisdom and patience, even in challenging situations.

EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND

HRM Eze Chijioke Egwuagu Collins possesses an impressive academic record that reflects both his thirst for knowledge and his global outlook. His educational journey began at R.C.M New Town in Victoria, West Cameroon, where he built a solid foundation for his future endeavors. As a young student, HRM exhibited a keen intellect and a strong determination to excel academically. These attributes earned him a place at the prestigious St. Joseph's College, Sasse in Buea, West Cameroon, where he pursued his secondary education.

During his time at St. Joseph's College, HRM was known for his exceptional academic performance and leadership abilities. However, it was at Trinity High School, Oguta, where he completed his secondary education in 1976, that HRM truly came into his own. Graduating with a high credit in Division 2, he laid the groundwork for a lifelong pursuit of excellence in both academia and leadership.
